

Starting 31 January 2014

NEW RULES FOR LIQUIDS ON BOARD

Only certain liquids may be carried as hand luggage and they must be presented separately at security.

The rules below apply to all liquids, aerosols, gels, pastes, lotions, foams, creams, jams, liquid/solid mixtures and other items of similar consistency

CHECK WHICH LIQUIDS YOU CAN TAKE AS HAND LUGGAGE

CAUTION

Liquids in containers of 100ml or less packed in a single transparent, re-sealable 1-litre plastic bag.

Duty Free in a sealed security bag.

The item and the receipt must be sealed at the time of purchase inside a security bag with a red border.

- Do not open the security bag until you arrive at your final destination.
- The security officer may need to open the security bag for screening.

In case you have a connecting flight at another airport, please alert the security officer so your Duty Free liquids may be re-sealed in a new security bag.

Medicines & special dietary products,

such as baby food, vital for the trip.

You may be asked for proof of authenticity.

FORBIDDEN

All other liquids, aerosols and gels should be placed in your checked (hold) luggage.

AT THE AIRPORT

- Exceptionally, security may open bottles or containers for screening.
 - Exceptionally and solely for security reasons, liquids may not be permitted.

If in doubt ask your airport, airline or retailer in advance of travelling for further information.
