

“ We cannot stop now; as a region, we are looking at Aeroporti di Roma’s masterplan, and the fourth runway is something we must work on together, identifying compensation measures regarding the existing natural conservation area - whilst not forgetting the volume of tourists arriving, which is set to grow. We are working side by side with Mayor Gualtieri; Rome must be a springboard for the region’s destinations so that tourism can reach all of its areas. The Jubilee is an excellent springboard, in this regard. ”
