

“ Enough of an Italy of ‘no’. No to the new runway at Fiumicino, no to the cargo area at Malpensa, no to the Strait of Messina’s Bridge, no to the high-speed rail (TAV), no to the MOSE flood barriers, no to the Brenner Pass project. It is always no. Investing also means betting on the future, overcoming these vetoes and focusing on modernisation and development. ”

MATTEO SALVINI

Minister of Infrastructure and Transport and Deputy Prime Minister
Inauguration of the Civil Aviation Palace