*Catricalà was an innovator who knew how to look ahead.
He clearly saw the need for growth.*

*He understood that the successes Aeroporti di Roma had been achieving year after year needed to serve a broader purpose:
planning in advance the expansion of runways and airport infrastructure.*

I therefore hope that the Mayor of Fiumicino, Mario Baccini, with his well-known determination including political determination, will be able to guide institutions - also at the national level - to accelerate timelines, thereby enabling ADR to upgrade its infrastructure with the same capability it has demonstrated in the past, so as to be ready for the future.
