

In the aviation sector, we are a European leader, but now we must capitalise on this leading position. [...] Regarding Fiumicino, the largest Italian airport and the best in Europe, we now need to put the past behind us and look to the future. It has a unique geographical location and it is fundamental both for the development of the area and for connectivity, as well as for increasing both cargo and passengers' service. It's crucial to do this through dialogue between the public and private sectors, to let our airport system keep growing as it is doing now, faster than the national economy.

EDOARDO RIXI

Undersecretary of State at the Ministry of Infrastructure and Transport

Commemorative Event for Antonio Catricalà "Competition and Air Transport in the Strategic Infrastructure System"