*Regarding accessibility for foreign tourists,
when it comes to airports there is no issue of public funds.
Management companies have the money to make investments and must be put in the position to do so.*

Think about Rome: ADR has a multi-billion euro project for the fourth runway at Fiumicino airport, whose capacity is now limited compared to what it could achieve in the coming years.

This company must be enabled to make these investments.

The State, on the other hand, must take care of the connections between cities and airports.
